

LUXEFINDER

ART

The handpainted, five-clawed imperial dragon dial is rendered in the centuries-old tradition of miniature painting practiced by an elite group of artisans. Although it comprises many layers, the finished painting is a mere 0.03 mm thick.

MOTION

The one-minute flying tourbillon, the regulating mechanism of the watch's manual-winding Caliber 10200, completes a rotation every 60 seconds and orbits the onyx dial every 12 hours.

MINI MASTERPIECE

Jean Dunand marries the expertise of the master watchmaker with the artistry of the miniature painter to produce a one-of-a-kind masterpiece, the Tourbillon Orbital Imperial Dragon. $397,800, 570.270.6160, jeandunand.com
